

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Sketches and Rhymes in the Rochdale Dialect, by JOHN TRAFFORD CLEGG. "The Owl Weighver," with Portrait and Views; 2 vols., each 500 pages, demy 8vo., cloth, £1 1s. net.

One of the choicest dialectal productions in the County Palatine. — Bury Guardian. This volume, on its merits, is worthy of a place in every library. — Liverpool Mercury. He writes the dialect as only one can do who has learnt to speak it in childhood. — Manchester Guardian.

As a dialect writer he was probably unsurpassed. He had a marvellous knowledge of the folk-speech of the district, and in acquiring the dialect he became so thoroughly impregnated with the spirit and genius of the people that his writings are filled with its homely humour and pathos. — Rochdale Observer.

Writings of Oliver Ormerod, with Memoir, by HENRY COLLEY MARCH, M.D. LOND., F.S.A., Portrait and the original humorous Illustrations to the "Felle fro Rachde," drawn by Frederick J. Shields and engraved by Robert Langton; cr. 8vo., art cloth, 5/- net.

Racy sketches, bubbling over with humour, sparkling with homely wit that is racy of the soil. — Rochdale Observer.

Not the least interesting part of this volume is Dr. March's account of Oliver Ormerod's life, in the course of which there are some delightful glimpses of a character rich in Quaker-like simplicity and sterling goodness of heart. — Literary World.

We imagine that many readers will prize the book for the sake of the earlier illustrations drawn by F. J. Shields. These represent the now well-known artist in a light which will be quite new to many who know the lofty ideal work of his later years. — Manchester Guardian.

History of the Parish of Rochdale, in the County of Lancaster, by Lieut.-Col. HENRY FISHWICK, F.S.A., with numerous fine Illustrations; demy 4to., 500 pp., half morocco, top edges gilt, £1 16s. 6d.

History of the Parish of Preston, in the County of Lancaster, by Lieut.-Col. HENRY FISHWICK, F.S.A., with numerous fine Illustrations; demy 4to., cloth, 450 pp., half morocco, top edges gilt, £1 16s. 6d.

Centenary Edition of the Works of "Tim Bobbin" (John Collier) with the original Plates designed by the author and other Illustrations, edited by Lieut.-Col. HENRY FISHWICK, F.S.A. The Editor contributes a new and authentic Life of "Tim Bobbin," and a Bibliography of his Works. Crown 4to., half vellum, top edges gilt, £1 1s.

Registers of the Parish of Rochdale, in the County of Lancaster, 1582-1641, including copy of transcripts of Registers of Todmorden Chapels for the years 1624, 1625, 1628, 1632, and 1633, the originals of which are lost, by Lieut.-Col. FISHWICK, F.S.A.; 2 vols., demy 8vo., cloth, £1 1s. net.

Registers of the Parish Church of Felkirk, in the Diocese of York, from 1701-1812, edited by A. Nora J. Royds, with copious Index; 8vo., cloth, 10/6.

Registers of the Parish Churches of Bury, Burnley, Croston, Whittington, Whalley, Brindle, Middleton, Ormskirk; 8vo., cloth, uniform. Printed for the Lancashire Parish Register Society—Sec.: Henry Brierley, B.A., Mab's Cross, Wigan.

The Portnote or Court Leet Records of the Borough or Town and Royal Manor of Salford, from 1579 to 1669, edited, with an Introduction by J. G. de T. MANDLEY; 2 vols., crown 4to., cloth.

Printed for the Chetham Society—Sec.: Chas. W. Sutton, M.A., Free Reference Library, King Street, Manchester.

Preface.

THE Sixth Edition of THE INTERNATIONAL DIRECTORY OF BOOKSELLERS—the first issue in the new century—has received unremitting attention at the hands of the Editor, with a view to maintain its reputation as the most complete and reliable work of reference now published in the interests of the book-trade. The contents are of the usual varied character. Additions and changes are very numerous, each section having been subjected to rigid revision, and the information brought down to the latest possible date.

It would be an easy matter to extend the Directory to twice its present dimensions, and many suggestions have been made by correspondents to include subjects which would materially add to its bulk. The intention, however, has rather been to exclude everything of doubtful utility, so as to still preserve the handy form of the work, and keep its price within moderate bounds.

The Free Library movement continues to make steady progress. Records of about 340 of these popular institutions, now in operation in the United Kingdom, will be found in this volume, without reckoning the numerous Branch Libraries in the larger towns. In the near future, due in a large measure to the princely gifts of MR. ANDREW CARNEGIE, many new library buildings will undoubtedly arise, and many thousands of volumes must be purchased to fully equip them for the needs of the reading public.

An epitome of "The Literature of the Victorian Era," announced to appear in this issue, has unfortunately to be abandoned, owing to the ill-health of the compiler. Its place is filled by other bookish matters which it is hoped may prove equally serviceable.

It is hardly necessary to state that a Directory of this character, with international aims, not only involves very great and painstaking labour, but demands a considerable period of time to collect the requisite material from the ends of the earth. Hence the tardy appearance of this volume. Issued late in the present year, the Editor feels himself justified in designating it a Directory for 1903.

The essential features of former editions remain practically unchanged, and the alphabetical arrangement is again followed throughout. Some monetary advantage will be derived from a careful entry in their proper places of the latest changes and additions noted on pages x. and xi.

Suggestions, corrections, and information calculated to further improve the Directory will be gratefully received.

The Editor acknowledges his indebtedness to Booksellers, Publishers, Librarians, and many other correspondents for their ready response to his enquiries.

ROCHDALE,
NOVEMBER 1st, 1902.

Explanatory.

IN the following pages, an asterisk (*) denotes that the firm publishes periodically a Catalogue of Books, which will be sent post free to bookbuyers.

If not otherwise described, by the words "Second-hand" or "New and Second-hand," firms deal in New Books only.

The figures which in some cases follow the address, denote the year in which the firm began business.

The populations of the cities and towns in the United Kingdom and the United States are according to the returns of 1901 and 1900 respectively.

BANGOR, Maine, U.S.A.

Phrenopathy, or Rational Mind Cure

By CHAS. W. CLOSE, Ph. D.

ENDORSED BY THE METAPHYSICAL PRESS.

"This system of mind cure is carefully arranged and distinctly expressed in short paragraphs, rich with meaning. Few works have appeared which are more practical and concise."—Metaphysical Magazine.

"These lessons are short, clear, concise, and practical, and may well be used by students as a text book."—Universal Truth.

"These lessons are presented in short, clear, pointed paragraphs, in such a way as to be easily grasped and applied by the student."—The Life.

"It would be difficult for the student of mental science to find a more instructive work than this one, published by Charles W. Close, Ph. D., of Bangor, Me. It is a good book to take the snarls out of the brain that some other books have put there. His definitions of terms that have muddled and misled so many people are plain and right to the point. Then it is a most encouraging volume for those who are travelling about the Valley of Discouragement. It tells them how to get out and to stay out."—Eleanor Kirk's Idea.

"It is full of individualized thought, and will do good to those who have a mind to read it."—Christian.

ENDORSED BY THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

"I have read most all the authors and taken several courses in Metaphysical Science, and can truly say Phrenopathy is the most scientific exposition of the relations of the human body and the modus operandi of the healing law of any of them. I can and do heartily recommend it to all who desire to heal themselves or others."—W. J. Atkinson, M.D.

"In your PHRENOPATHY, I am glad to say that you have sifted, condensed, and put in convenient form, the heart and strength of the entire mental cure subject I cannot conceive of a more convenient and practical presentation of the subject It ought, and must have a wide circulation."—Marvin E. Congar, M.D.

"Am much pleased with the work. You have my best wishes for offering such a work to suffering humanity."—J. H. Wynn, M.D.

ELLIOT STOCK'S NEW BOOKS.

NEW VOLUME OF THE BOOK-LOVER'S LIBRARY.

In fcap. 8vo, cloth, price 4/6; Roxburgh, 7/6; Large Paper, £1 ls.

HOW TO MAKE AN INDEX

By HENRY B. WHEATLEY,

Author of 'How to Form a Library,' 'How to Catalogue a Library.'

In this volume the various theories concerning Indexing are set forth, and certain rules are laid down and illustrated for the making of an Index, while erroneous methods are exposed and illustrated by examples.

"We are grateful to Mr. Wheatley for his eloquent treatise. As a practical indexer he has entire grasp of the subject, and fully illustrates the difficulties, pitfalls, and snares which beset one who would attempt an Index Rerum. Some very valuable suggestions are scattered through the work, particularly in the final chapter. Altogether, this should prove a highly acceptable addition to the 'Book-Lover's Library.'"—Book Queries.

In Demy 8vo, bound in buckram, and printed on good paper, with broad margin for Notes, price £1 7s. 6d. net.

THE NEW (Fifteenth) VOLUME OF

BOOK PRICES CURRENT

Being a Record of the Prices at which Books have been Sold at Auction, the Titles and Descriptions in full, the Catalogue Numbers, the Names of the Purchasers, and Special Notices containing the Prices for Season 1901.

The New Volume contains an Introduction in which is recorded the Characteristics of the Sales of 1901. It also furnishes a forecast of the tastes of collectors, and the prices of the future.

"'Book Prices Current' is a trustworthy guide and a reference book of the greatest value."—Athenæum.

"The book-lover is a man content with small satisfactions. If he cannot afford the volume he covets, he can at least enjoy the delirious delight of reading about it, watching its value in the auction-room, and finding out how much it fetched in the past."—St. James's Gazette.

Some of the earlier volumes of "Book Prices Current" are out of print and greatly advanced in price. Information concerning these can be had on application to the publisher; the more recent ones can still be had at the published price.

NOW READY.

In Demy 8vo, bound in buckram, uniform with BOOK PRICES CURRENT,
Price One Guinea net.

THE INDEX TO THE FIRST 10 VOLUMES OF BOOK PRICES CURRENT 1887 TO 1896:

CONSTITUTING A REFERENCE LIST OF SUBJECTS AND, INCIDENTALLY,
A KEY TO ANONYMOUS AND PSEUDONYMOUS LITERATURE.

"If money, as Anthony Trollope neatly put it, be the reward of labour, too much is certainly not asked for the labour which has 'marshalled into order a manuscript involving 88,000 distinct titles and considerably over 500,000 numerals.' The typographical arrangement of the volume will receive praise from those who can understand the difficulties of the printer's task."—Guardian.

SOME FACTS RELATING TO
PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR
AND BOOKSELLERS' RECORD.

IT is the only Newspaper published weekly that represents the British and Irish Publishing and Bookselling trade.

It gives a transcript of the Title-page of every work published in Great Britain, and every work of interest published abroad, with short annotations where the titles are not sufficiently explicit to define the nature of the book.

In addition to its special circulation amongst the principal firms in the Book Trade at Home and Abroad, it has a general circulation amongst Literary Men, Authors, Librarians, Book Collectors, Printers, Secretaries of Clubs, &c.

Each number contains a list of about six hundred out-of-print volumes that are wanted by Subscribers.

The Annual Subscription includes the large EXPORT and EDUCATIONAL NUMBERS; also the SPECIAL ILLUSTRATED CHRISTMAS NUMBER, which contains over THREE HUNDRED ILLUSTRATIONS, selected from the best and most artistic volumes of the Season; and every Annual Subscriber has the privilege of a Four Line Advertisement gratis each week in the Out-of-Print Books Wanted Column, and can have extra lines at 3d. a line.

It appears every Friday evening for Saturday, and Advertisements should be sent to the Publishers, St. Dunstan's House, Fetter Lane, London, E.C., not later than twelve o'clock on Wednesday, and earlier when proofs are desired.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION :

For One Year, post free to any part of Great Britain & Ireland...	8s. 6d.
„ Six Months „ „ „ „	4s. 6d.
„ Three Months „ „ „ „	2s. 6d.
To America and the Continent, annual subscription, including postage	11s. 0d.

TO BOOKSELLERS & PUBLISHERS

"THE CLIQUE."

This "unique paper" was founded for the benefit of the SECOND-HAND TRADE in 1890; and so marked has been its success that no bookseller of any standing can now afford to be without it.

The paper is published every Saturday, and supplied to the Trade only. This unique feature renders it the ONLY paper published in Great Britain in which trade prices can be fearlessly advertised, and it is thus the BEST MEDIUM for wholesale houses who desire to appeal direct to the trade.

As a means of obtaining "BOOKS WANTED" its columns have long been recognised, not only here but abroad, as the MOST SUCCESSFUL which have ever been placed at the service of advertisers. It is received and read by every Second-hand Bookseller in the United Kingdom and many abroad.

SUBSCRIPTION, 5s. PER ANNUM. Any live Second-hand Bookseller can make 5s. out of the first number he receives.

SPECIMEN NUMBER GRATIS on receipt of trade card. (Assistants, clerks, amateur dealers, &c., are not on any account supplied.)

Our motto has always been "THE TRADE FOR THE TRADE," and we claim that we have consistently followed this principle without any reference to gain or loss.

Our terms for advertisements are lower, notwithstanding that we stand FIRST among Second-hand Book-trade organs, than those of any paper in the world.

Publishing Office: MORAY HOUSE, DERBY.

LIBRARY NECESSARIES.

THE COTGREAVE INDICATORS

The merit of these Indicators over all others may be best gauged by the fact that the sales for ONE HALF-YEAR exceed the sales of other Indicators for SEVERAL YEARS.

In 99 per cent. of the cases where the Cotgreave Indicators are placed in open competition with others they are adopted.

THE BOOK OR LEDGER INDICATOR.

This Indicator still maintains its great popularity.

By this system all accounts both of borrower and book can, if desired, be kept under their respective numbers in the Indicator.

THE SIMPLEX INDICATOR.

This Indicator is adaptable to any methods of library book-keeping, card-charging, etc., without the possibilities of mistakes which occur with the use of other card-charging Indicators.

THE ADJUSTABLE INDICATOR.

We have several designs of Adjustable Indicators for the Dewey Decimal and other systems, and also for titles instead of numbers.

Space prevents our giving a full list of our various designs, but it may be mentioned that they can be made to meet the requirements of any Librarian.

MAGAZINE RACKS, SHELF FITTINGS, LITERARY INDEXES, &c.

Models and Specimens and Prices, with Testimonials and other particulars, can be obtained upon application to—

NAVAL LIBRARIES.

Every ship in the Navy possesses a Library according to the number of her crew—ranging from about 800 for the largest to 300 for the smallest ship. The Library is in charge of a schoolmaster when the ship carries one otherwise this duty is carried out by a writer.

In all training ships for boys there is a library for their exclusive use, containing books, papers, and periodicals, the cost of which is defrayed from a fund to which each boy contributes twopence per month. The naval chaplain, with the assistance of the head schoolmaster, manages this fund.

LIBRARIES AT DEVONPORT.

H.M. Training Ship "Impregnable" is the largest harbour training ship in the Service, and the number of boys on board varies from 1,500 to 2,000. The boys' library contains about 1,500 books. There is also another library on board supplied by the Admiralty consisting of about 1,000 vols.—historical, scientific, and works of fiction.

H.M. Training Ship "Lion" is moored in the Homoeaze off the Keyham Dockyard; about 1,000 on board. The boys' library contains over 2,000 vols., chiefly chosen as being adapted for boys' reading. The favourite authors are: G. A. Henty (an easy first), Manville Fenn, Conan Doyle, Gordon Stables, Bertram Mitford, Clarke Russell, Ballantyne, Kingston, Marryat, Mayne Reid, Rider Haggard, Charles Read, and Miss Braddon.

The Royal Dockyard Lending Library, supported by members' subscriptions, contains 4,000 vols. of general literature.

The Dockyard Professional Library consists of scientific and technical works purchased from an Admiralty grant of £10 yearly. These are chiefly on Naval Architecture, Engineering, and kindred subjects, and are regarded as a Reference Library for the use of Professional officers of the Dockyard.

The Royal Naval Engineering College has a Library of some 2,500 vols., classified as follows:—Religious works; Biography and History; Voyages and Travels; Law and Politics; Science, Art, and Technical; Prose Fiction; Poetry, Drama, and Classics; Magazines.

Book-Plates.

THE taste for elegant and choice books is undoubtedly spreading, and just now there is quite a craze among book-lovers for the collection of those little labels which are placed in books as marks of possession, and are usually known as book-plates. New ones are every day being designed, and much artistic excellence is exhibited in the designs. Most possessors of books like to write their names within the covers, and some, going a little further, have their names printed on a ticket to place inside their books. Here we have the book-plate in its simplest form. Every one must have come across in some old volumes the following doggerel, which appears in all kinds of illiterate writings:—

[John Robinson] is my name,
And England is my nation,
London is my dwelling-place,
And Christ is my salvation.

It is amusing to note the difference between the large and the small collector in the expression of his right of possession. The great book lovers Maioli and Grolier in the fifteenth century stamped upon their beautiful volumes the liberal information that the books were for themselves and for their friends, and several other collectors used the same expression, while one went so far as to state on his book-plate that his volumes were not for himself but for others. How far these liberal sentiments were carried out we cannot tell.

Let us now look at the other side. One man was so niggardly in the use of his books that he had inscribed in each, "This book is stolen from the library of——." A very pointed inscription, though not so bad as the last, was the verse: "The ungodly borroweth and payeth not again."

The notion that a borrowed book seldom finds its way back to its original home is a deep-rooted one, and is variously expressed on book-plates. The following lines are of common occurrence:—

If thou art borrowed by a friend,
Right welcome shall he be,
To read, to study, not to lend,
But to return to me.

Not that imparted knowledge doth
 Diminish learning's store,
 But books, I find, if often lent
 Return to me no more.

Sometimes the inscriptions refer more to the treatment of books when lent than to their return, as this one:—

Fear not, nor soil not:
 Read all, but spoil not.

The next might with advantage be borne in mind by those who are careless in the treatment of books:—

If any one should borrow me
 Pray keep me clean,
 For I am not like the linen cloth
 That can be wash'd again.

There are many more verses inculcating a like sentiment, but the above are sufficient as samples.

Book-plates appear to have taken their rise in Germany, or at all events the earliest examples known to us are connected with that country, and with the great master, Albert Durer. Wilibald Pirkheimer was a great friend of Luther and Melancthon, and he possessed a good library filled with the works of the early reformers. In these books, many of them large folios, he placed his famous book-plates; one of these was a woodcut designed by Durer, which contained Pirkheimer's arms and those of his wife with much emblematical surroundings—the other was a copper-plate portrait of Pirkheimer, also by Durer, which must have been a speaking likeness of the burly jurist of Nuremberg. The books which are adorned with these valuable book-plates were bought by the Earl of Arundel, the famous connoisseur and collector, from whom they descended to Henry Howard, afterwards Duke of Norfolk, who presented them to the newly-formed Royal Society, on the suggestion of John Evelyn, the Diarist. Durer made several book-plates for his friends, which are described in Thausing's valuable life of the artist. One for Lazarus Spengler was designed in 1515, and in the British Museum there is a drawing of the same date which bears the inscription, "Albert Durer did this for Melchior Pfinzing's book." The plate for Hieronymus Ebner, of Nuremberg, also designed by Durer, is dated 1516. Before taking leave of German book-plates we must mention a very curious one of John Faber, Bishop of Vienna, who was called by his admirers the "hammerer of heretics," on account of the curious statement which it contains. The Bishop in 1540, the year before he died, bequeathed his books to the College of St. Nicholas in Vienna, and he had a book-plate designed for the purpose, with this inscription (in Latin) upon it:—"This book was bought by us, Dr. John Faber, Bishop of Vienna . . . and since, indeed, that money (which purchased this volume) did not arise from the revenues and properties of our diocese, but from our own most honest labours in other directions; and therefore it is free to us to give or bequeath the book to whomsoever we please: We accordingly present it to our College of St. Nicholas; and we ordain this volume shall remain for ever for the use of the students."

The collecting of book-plates is so far an evil that their labels are often taken out of books where they are of more interest than when collected with others in a scrap-book. But it is useless complaining, for the mania has laid hold of a large number of collectors, and a strong illustration of the way in which the taste has spread is to be found in the fact that quite recently a special society of book-plate collectors has been formed.

London Daily Chronicle.

How Mr. Birrell spent a Five Pound Note.

MR. AUGUSTINE BIRELL, M.P., in a lecture in Cowdenbeath on books began by observing that the best way of showing what could be done was to do it yourself. Accordingly, he had laid out the precise sum of five pounds in books, and brought them with him to Cowdenbeath, and they were now on the table before him. He had no hesitation in saying that a very considerable proportion of the wit and wisdom of the world, its accumulated treasures, were at his hand—within reach of his arm. These treasures were worth more to a man than all the coalfields of the United Kingdom. Shakespeare, as Carlyle once put it, was worth more to Great Britain than our whole Indian Empire—he is a greater, a more glorious achievement. The books had not been chosen because they were cheap, but because they were good. A man who had them in his house had a library kings might envy. The character of every book in this five-pound collection is without fear and without reproach.

Poetry.—Homer (Pope's translation of the Iliad and the Odyssey, two vols.), Dante (Longfellow's translation), Shakespeare (the globe edition), Milton, Burns, Scott, Wordsworth (Mr. Morley's edition), The Golden Treasury.

History and Biography.—Plutarch's Lives (four vols.), Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire (four vols.), Macaulay's History (three vols.), Scott's Tales of a Grandfather, Carlyle's French Revolution, Oliver Cromwell, Past and Present, Boswell's Life of Dr. Johnson, Lockhart's Life of Burns, Life of Scott.

Politics.—Burke's Selected Works (two vols.), Bright's Speeches, Bagehot (The English Constitution).

Fiction.—Don Quixote, The Pilgrim's Progress, Robinson Crusoe, Vicar of Wakefield, The Antiquary, Guy Mannering, Heart of Midlothian, Old Mortality, Waverley, The Bride of Lammermoor.

Meditation and Reflection.—Marcus Aurelius, Epictetus, The Imitation of Christ, Bacon's Essays, Carlyle's Sartor Resartus.

Miscellaneous.—William Hazlitt (selections from), Charles Lamb (The Essays of Elia), Sheridan (plays), Macaulay's Essays and Miscellaneous Writings, Hugh Miller (My Schools and Schoolmasters).

HOW WILL IT LOOK IN PRINT?—It is the most difficult thing in the world to know, from looking at it in manuscript, how an article will look in print, so difficult that even authors—men of long and varied experience—men like Macaulay, Sydney Smith, and Charles Dickens—could seldom form an opinion upon their own writings till they saw how they looked in print. When that is the case with authors, how must it be with the publisher or his reader, or with the editor who has to make up his mind about the merits of half-a-dozen manuscripts in the course of a day? Many can scribble, but writing is an art—one of the fine arts. The men who have had the fewest manuscripts returned are those who have taken the greatest pains with their work. Sala, for instance, wrote and re-wrote some of his essays, long as they were, three times over. If writers generally did this we should have shorter articles and fewer books; but more essays, that now perish with a single reading, might be worth reprinting, and more books might stand a chance of descending to posterity.

Notes.

TO RESTORE CALF BINDINGS.—Wash lightly with a soft sponge dipped in a preparation consisting of half an ounce of the best glue dissolved in a pint of warm water, to which add a teaspoonful of glycerine and a little flour paste. Rub well with a chamois leather when dry.

HOW TO SPLIT A SHEET OF PAPER.—Did you ever come across an article in a newspaper or journal which you wished to cut out and paste in a book for future reference, and when you were about to cut it out you found to your annoyance that it was impossible to carry out your intention because the article in question was printed on both sides of the leaf? Most people will answer this question in the affirmative. You have either bought another copy of the paper or have copied out one portion of the article—that is, if you have adhered to your determination to add it to your “common-place book,” or whatever you call it. Well, M. Marissiaux says you can split the paper in two, and this is how it is done:—Wet both sides of the paper with a weak solution of good glue, and stick a piece of calico on each side, taking care to keep the paper flat. The calico should be a little larger than the paper in order to leave a margin which can be made use of as afterwards shown. When the glue is quite dry, place on a flat surface and, having secured the under piece of calico, turn back the uppermost piece and gently pull it until it is separated from its fellow: you will find that the paper has been split in two. All that remains to be done is to immerse the two pieces in lukewarm water in order to get them apart from the calico, dry them in blotting paper and stick them in your book. This plan is successful with the thinnest papers.

BUNYAN’S “PILGRIM’S PROGRESS.”—The astonishing price of £1,475, paid in 1901, for a first edition of Bunyan’s immortal work, is a fresh proof of the lengths to which collectors will go in their desire for first editions of great books. It is a shabby little volume of 122 leaves, badly printed on coarse paper. First given to the world in 1678, it has long been regarded as one of the very rarest of books. Fashions change in the book-collecting world, and all but a few of the once treasured Aldines and Elzevirs and Bodonis have long since lost their fictitious value in the eyes of wealthy bibliophiles. But the market value of the first editions of Shakespeare, Spenser, Chaucer, Milton, Goldsmith, and the like has been steadily rising for a century, and, as the leading collectors seem to have bottomless purses, it will probably rise higher still. Nothing could be more desirable from the standpoint of those who love to read the best literature. Collectors have not always shown such a preference for good books over what may be called literary or typographical curiosities. There is always something to be learned from a first edition of a great work. The “Pilgrim’s Progress,” for example, as first issued in 1678 did not contain several important passages that appear in the modern text. These, first added in the second edition of the same year, 1678, include, for example, the second paragraph describing Christian’s mental sufferings and how his family were aggrieved by his strange ways after he had received his “call.” It is instructive to observe a great author at work upon his book, adding and revising here and there, and the rage for first editions serves a useful purpose, as it tends to preserve such literary evidence for the benefit of posterity.

Sizes of Books.

THE name indicates the number of pages in the sheet, thus : in a folio book, four pages or two leaves=one sheet ; a quarto, or 4to, eight pages or four leaves to a sheet ; an octavo, or 8vo, sixteen pages or eight leaves to a sheet. In a 12mo, twenty-four pages, or twelve leaves=one sheet ; and the 18mo, thirty-six pages, or eighteen leaves=one sheet, and so on. The following are approximate sizes of books, over all :—

Royal folio.....	19 in.	by	12	Foolscap 8vo.....	7 in.	by	4½
Demy folio.....	18	„	11	12mo	7	„	4
Super imperial 4to..	15½	„	13	16mo	6½	„	4
Royal 4to	12½	„	10	Square 16mo.....	4½	„	3½
Demy 4to	11½	„	8½	Demy 18mo	6	„	4
Crown 4to	11	„	8	Royal 24mo	5½	„	3½
Royal 8vo	10	„	6½	Demy 24mo	5	„	2¾
Medium 8vo	9½	„	6	Royal 32mo	5	„	3
Demy 8vo	9	„	5¾	Post 32mo.....	4	„	2½
Crown 8vo	7½	„	5	Demy 48mo	3¾	„	2½

The associated librarians of Great Britain, realising that the words folio, quarto, octavo, duodecimo, etc., have ceased to possess any specific meaning, have agreed to define the sizes of books by height measurement, as follows :—

Sizes.	Abbreviations.	Size in inches.	Sizes.	Abbreviations.	Size in inches.
Large folio	La fo.	over 18	Large octavo ...	La 8vo	below 11
Folio.....	Fol.	below 18	Octavo.....	8vo	below 9
Small folio	Sm. fol.	below 18	Small octavo ...	Sm. 8vo	below 8
Large quarto ...	La. 4to.	below 18	Duodecimo.....	12mo	below 8
Quarto	4to.	below 11	Decimo octavo .	18mo	is 6
Small quarto ...	Sm. 4to.	below 8	Minimo	Mo.	below 6

According to this scale, the size of the sheet and the number of times it is folded no longer determine the size of books. The foot rule or yard stick settles it. The height, and, in the case of quartos, the width of the cover is measured, and according to the number of inches recorded the book receives its designation. This is by far the preferable way. Formerly nearly every paper-maker had his own standard sizes of sheets. The result was endless confusion in the nomenclature of sizes. Under this rule he can persist in them without confounding the bibliographer.

The following sizes of books are taken from the catalogue of the Riverside Press, the "highest authority in the United States":—Volumes described as 32mo, although not in all cases uniform, usually measure 4 inches in width by 5½ inches in height ; 18mo, 4½ by 6in. ; 16mo, 5 by 7in. ; 12mo, 5½ by 7½in. ; crown 8vo, 5½ by 8in. ; 8vo, 6 by 9in. ; royal 8vo, 7½ by 10in. ; 4to, 10 by 12½in. ; and folio, 13 by 15in. Special sizes, such as small 4to, square 16mo, etc., are modifications of the sizes named above.

The following are the measurements in inches of unbound copies of the volumes included in Messrs. Macmillan & Co.'s Catalogue, 1902. The cloth binding in which most of the books are issued adds slightly to these sizes :—

Folios—

Royal Folio. $20 \times 12\frac{1}{2}$.
 Demy Folio. $17\frac{1}{2} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$.
 Foolscap Folio (fcap. folio). $13\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$.
 Pott Folio. $12\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$.

Quartos (4to)—

Imperial 4to. 11×15 .
 Royal 4to. $10 \times 12\frac{1}{2}$.
 Medium 4to. 9×12 .
 Demy 4to. $11\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$.
 Fcap. 4to. $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$.
 Pott 4to. $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$.

Octavos—

Imperial 8vo. $11 \times 7\frac{1}{2}$.
 Super Royal 8vo. 10×7 .
 Royal 8vo. $10 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$.
 Medium 8vo. 9×6 .
 Demy 8vo. (described as "8vo.")
 $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$.
 Extra Crown 8vo. $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$.
 Crown 8vo. $7\frac{1}{2} \times 5$.
 Globe 8vo. $7 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$.
 Fcap. 8vo. $6\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$.
 Pott 8vo. $6\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$.
 Demy Oblong 8vo. $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$.
 Post 8vo. $7\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$.

Contractions in Booksellers' Catalogues.

As everybody knows, booksellers, and more particularly literary auctioneers, are in the habit of using contractions with the object of saving space, and consequently expense. These contractions are common knowledge to book-hunters and others who are in the habit of poring over catalogues; but to the ordinary and casual reader they are sometimes little better than a series of hieroglyphics, the meaning of which may be guessed at in some cases, though certainly not in all. The following list of contractions will no doubt prove useful on occasion, as it includes all that are commonly looked upon by English cataloguers as "orthodox." Contractions can, of course, be invented to any extent considered necessary; but the tendency of the present day is rather to curtail their number than to augment a list which many people may perhaps regard as already too extensive.

A. N.—Absque nota. Without any place of publication, date, or other particulars of issue being given on the title-page, or colophon.

Bd.—Bound.

Bds.—Boards. A species of binding in common use before the invention of cloth covers in 1826. A book bound in "boards" has the appearance of being covered with thick millboard, usually of some shade of brown, but sometimes blue, green, or yellow.

C.—Circa, about; thus c. 1815—i.e., about the year 1815.

Cf.—Calf. A species of binding of boards, covered with calf-skin.

Cl.—Cloth, sometimes called cl. bds., i.e., cloth-boards; mill-board, covered with cloth, ornamented or plain. This is the binding now in common use.

Col.—Coloured.

Ed.—Edition.

Ex.—Extra. A term applied to any binding of a superior kind, well "forwarded," with marble end-papers, silk "headbands," and a good deal of gilt, particularly on the "squares," i.e., inside that part of the boards which projects over the edges.

Fly-l.—Fly-leaf. A blank leaf at the beginning or end of a book.

Fol.—Folio. A term referring to the size of a book printed on paper folded into two leaves, or four pages.

Front.—Frontispiece. An ornamental figure or engraving fronting the title-page.

G. e.—Gilt edges.

Gr.—Greek.

Gt.—Gilt.

G. t.—Gilt top. See T. e. g.

Hf.—Half.

Hf. bd.—Half bound.

L.—Leaf.

Lat.—Latin.

Ll. or ll.—Leaves.

L. p.—Large paper. Many books are printed on larger-sized paper for the sake of variety. The ordinary issues will perhaps be 8vo. size, and a limited number of copies will be printed in 4to. These contain the same text, but may be printed on better paper and have illustrations of a superior quality. Their cost is usually double that of the ordinary copies.

M. e.—Marbled edges. The edges of books are sometimes, though not very often, grained so as to resemble marble.

Mor.—Morocco. A species of superior leather binding.

Mot.—Mottled. Referring to books with mottled or powdered edges.

MS.—A contraction for Manuscript. The plural form is MSS.

N. d.—No date.

Orig.—Original.

Pl.—Plate; i. e., full-page illustration.

Port.—Portrait.

Pp. or pp.—Pages.

Pt.—Part or number, as when a book is published in parts.

Pub.—Published.

R. e.—Red edges.

Rox.—Roxburgh. A species of binding, modelled on that used for the publications of the Roxburgh Club.

Roy.—Royal. A qualifying adjective applied to sizes of books, thus—roy. 8vo., roy. 4to.

Russ.—Russia. A species of leather used in binding books.

S. a.—Sine anno; i. e., without any date being mentioned on the title-page.

Shp.—Sheep. A binding of sheep-skin.

Sig.—Signature. The small capital letter or figure under the foot-line of the first page of each sheet of a book; it is placed there as a guide to the binder. In many instances a second signature, e. g., B2, is placed on the third page.

S. l.—Sine loco; i. e., without any place of publication being mentioned on the title-page or elsewhere.

S. l. et a.—Sine loco et anno; i. e., without either place of publication or date being mentioned on the title-page or elsewhere.

Sm.—Small; e. g., sm. 8vo., sm. 4to.

S. nom. imp.—Sine nomine impressoris. Without printer's name.

T. e. g.—Top edge gilt. See G. t.

Tir à part.—Tirage à part. Published in parts.

Unbd.—Unbound. A book in sheets as it comes from the printer's is of course unbound. When a pamphlet is issued without a cover, as sometimes happens, it is said to be "stitched."

V.—Vers, about.

Vel.—Vellum. A reference to the binding.

Vol.—Volume.

V. y.—Various years. A bundle of pamphlets published at different times would be described as of v. y.

W. a. f.—With all faults. The book is sold with all its imperfections, and the purchaser must take it as it stands.

Y. e.—Yellow edges

HOW TO RELIEVE TIRED EYES.—Anyone who suffers from tired eyes may be glad to try a remedy accidentally discovered by a foreign author. Turning from an unfinished manuscript one night with weary eyes, his glance fell upon some scraps of coloured silk that his wife had been using for patchwork. These gay colours had a peculiar attraction for his wearied optics. On resuming his work after gazing at them for several minutes he found them quite fresh. After several experiments he surrounded his inkstand with brilliantly coloured striped silk material that his eyes must rest on every time he dips his pen into the ink. This brings instant relief.

REPRODUCTIONS OF PAINTINGS & SKETCHES BY THE OLD MASTERS.

For our own Publications, which are probably familiar to you, we have a very complete plant for working the various Photographic Reproduction Processes. We have lately enlarged our works, and are able to undertake advantageously, the Printing of Illustrations of all kinds.

The quality of the work may best be judged by the examination of any of our Publications and Periodicals: in spite of the high standard of work produced, the Prices will be found Moderate, and to compare well with those of any other firm. We do not issue a Price List for this printing, as so much depends on the quality and size of the paper and the character of work; but we are always happy to send examples of any process—either Monochrome or Colour—and to give Estimates for the probable number required.

SOCIALISM & MODERN SCIENCE

(DARWIN—SPENCER—MARX)

By Prof. Enrico Ferri. Translated by Robert Rives La Monte.

Cloth, gilt top, Price $1.00

The book treats of Darwin's theory of Evolution in its application to life, and takes issue with Spencer in showing that Socialism is the logical outcome of Darwinism. It is a comparative study of the philosophies of Darwin, Spencer, and Marx.

THE PEOPLE'S MARX

A Popular Epitome of Karl Marx's "Capital," by Gabrielle Deville.
Done into English by Robert Rives La Monte.

295 pp., Cloth, Price $1.50.

HISTORY of the COMMUNE of 1871

Translated from the French of Lissagaray by Eleanor Marx Aveling.

8vo., 500 pp., Cloth, Price $3.00.

Lissagaray was a soldier of the Commune and wrote the book in 1876, with the memory of the horrible days still fresh in everybody's mind. It stands as a living refutation of the mass of misleading literature on the subject.

THE SILVER CROSS

WHAT USERS SAY!

"The labels are simply invaluable!—especially when one considers that time is money, and that to save time is to lengthen life."

JAS. CLARKE & Co. (per W.M.)

"I think your system of slip addresses most excellent."—R. B. MARSTON.

"Your idea of selling gummed addresses of libraries, etc., seems to me nothing less than a flash of genius,—in its simplicity, now it is done."

C. F. BLACKBURN.

"The gummed addresses are undoubtedly a great saving of time and labour."—J. DAY & SON.

"The idea of issuing these lists was a stroke of genius. One list alone saved me weeks of worrying search."—T. LAURIE.
